

Provo, Utah

City Guide

“The City Starts” and “Welcome Home”

The Provo area captures many of the best things that the State of Utah has to offer. As the third-largest city in Utah, Provo is located about 45 miles south of Salt Lake City, and is within easy driving distance of Salt Lake’s business district and International Airport. Uniquely bounded on the east by towering mountain peaks of the Wasatch Front, and on the west by Utah Lake, the Provo/Orem area provides easy access to the national parks, canyon country, and popular ski resorts.

Ranked as the #2 greatest place to live in America, Provo is consistently recognized nationally for its outstanding quality of life, well-being, and as a beautiful place to live with unbelievable recreational opportunities. With access to trails, rivers, mountains, lakes, variety of independent restaurants, bike lanes, green space, vibrant music scene, and amazing community events - Provo has it all. Provo is also home to a diverse population, which provides numerous opportunities for cultural experiences, whether it be art, cuisine, or sporting events at Brigham Young University. Whether you’re planning on visiting or planning on relocating, Provo is a place of beginnings. Businesses, relationships, families, and careers all start here. Come see the Utah Valley for yourself and see why Provo is a great place to live, work, and play. Create your own start in the Utah Valley and beyond!
